The first of the six books published at Cracow from 1584 to 1589. Books 7-10 mentioned in the "Exhortatio" on verso of t.-p., never appeared in print. According to Wadding, Scriptorum Ordinis minorum, Romae, 1906, the commentary (consisting of a series of treatises enumerated on p. 108-111) includes the Greeco-Latin text of Pimander (F. Foix de Candale, Bordigale, 1574). The fourth book with the comprehensive sub-title "De coelo" contains—interspersed within the treatises—passages selected from various treatises of the Poimandre in Latin translation (differing from that of Pimander)

The hermetical triumph: or, The victorious philosophical stone. A treatise concerning the hermetical magistery. Translated from the French. To which is added, The ancient war of the knights. Translated from the German original. As also, some annotations upon the most material points, where the two translations differ. Done from a German ed. London, P. Hanet, 1723.

1 p. l., v-xxvi, (3), 147, (1), 39, (1) p. front. 18mo.

The first three parts are translated from Le triomphe hermétique. The ancient war of the knights is a translation from the French version of Saint-Didier of "Uralter ritter-krieg" made from the Latin translation.

"A letter to the true disciples of Hermes" is also by Saint-Didier.

2 p. l., 24 part. 25cm.
Title supplied in manuscript.
Contains a satirical poem, "Sonnet. Response des refugiés aux persecuteurs", and 24 caricature portraits representing persons playing an important rôle in the religious struggles at the time of the revocation of the Edict of Nantes. Each portrait is accompanied by a quatrain. The portraits have been ascribed to C. Dumart, and, with less probability, to L. Gautier.
